```
#include <stdio.h>
#include <stdlib.h>
#include <string.h>
#define total 30
struct brac
{
        char stk[total];
        int top;
}s;
void push(char c)
        //printf("push\n");
        if(s.top<total)
        {
                s.stk[++s.top]=c;
                //printf("if3\n");
        }
        else
        {
                printf("Stack Overflow");
        }
}
void pop(char c)
        if(s.top==-1)
        {
                printf("Brackets Unbalanced");
                exit(0);
        if(c==')'&&s.stk[s.top]=='(')
                --s.top;
                return;
        else if(c==']'&&s.stk[s.top]=='[')
                --s.top;
                return;
        else if(c=='}'&&s.stk[s.top]=='{')
        {
                --s.top;
                return;
        else
```

```
{
                printf("Brackets Unbalanced");
                exit(0);
        }
}
int main(void)
        int i,n;
        char a[80],b;
        s.top=-1;
        printf("Enter the string:\n");
        scanf("%s",a);
        n=strlen(a);
        for(i=0;i<n;i++)
        {
                b=a[i];
                if(b=='['||b=='('||b=='{'})
                         //printf("if1\n");
                         push(a[i]);
                         continue;
                if(b==']'||b==')'||b=='}')
                {
                         //printf("if2\n");
                         pop(a[i]);
                }
        if(s.top==-1)
                printf("\nAll Braclets Balanced");
        }
}
```